Final Conference of the EU-Project “Justice Cooperation Network (JCN)
European Treatment and Transition Management of High Risk Offenders” Rostock-Warnemünde, Germany, 3 – 5 September 2014

The final conference of the EU-Project JCN took place in Rostock-Warnemünde, Germany from 3 – 5 September 2014.

The Conference featured presentations on the findings from the JCN project, contributions from experts and workshop discussions. Focusing on high risk offenders or dangerous offenders in particular, their resettlement and re-integration into society was the main topic of the presentation of JCN project results. Vice-president of EuroPris, Karin Dotter-Schiller gave an opening address at the conference.

The conference was a valuable opportunity for networking, meeting with experienced colleagues and experts in transition management, as well as to exchange knowledge and develop partnerships. From all over Europe project partners, associated partners and interested professionals working in the field of justice and transition management came together to exchange experiences and ideas on the topic “legislation”; “sentence planning; transition management and release” and “re-integration, aftercare and monitoring” of high risk offenders. All most 400 delegates from 34 different countries participated in the JCN Final Conference. The event was hosted by the project coordinator Ministry of Justice Mecklenburg-Western Pomerania, Germany.

The conference has been a successful and inspiring mixture of presentations by the project partners and the invited experts and practitioners, discussions, networking and a joyful togetherness. The dissemination of the project results will soon follow on the project website: <http://jcn.pixel-online.org/>.
