Prevalence of Domestic Abuse in England and Wales

Data sourced from either 'Crime in England and Wales: year ending March 2018' or 'Domestic Abuse in England and Wales: year ending March 2018' (Office for National Statistics).

- It is estimated that 2 million adults in England and Wales, aged between 16-59, experienced Domestic Abuse during the year ending March 2018, equating to 6 in every 100 adults.
- 1.3 million victims were women and 695,000 were men.
- 239 women and 45 men were killed by their partner or ex-partner between April 2014 and March 2017.
- Police recordings of Domestic Abuse continue to rise. In the year ending September 2018, an increase of 25% was observed compared to the previous year.
- In the year ending March 2018, 76% of prosecutions resulted in convictions.

Percentage (%) of offences flagged as Domestic Abuse: Year ending September 2018.

- Convictions for Stalking and Harassment increased by 41% in the year ending March 2018 compared to the previous year.
- Police recorded almost double the number of Coercive Control offences in the year ending March 2018. 9053 offences were recorded compared to 4241 the previous year.
- 400 (86%) of the prosecutions for Disclosing Private Sexual Images ('Revenge Porn') were flagged as Domestic Abuse related.

In summary

There has been little change in the prevalence rates of Domestic Abuse over recent years but the cumulative effect suggests a significantly lower prevalence as of March 2018 (6.1%) compared to March 2012 (7%). However, it is estimated that 83% of victims (4/5) did not report their abuse to the police last year.
