

Case Study of a Low Security Female Institute Cesare Battisti Barracks in Naples

Ljubljana, 14-16 October 2019
EuroPris Real Estate Workshop
Designing for Women

Ministry of Justice – Italy
Department of Penitentiary Administration
Prison Service Headquarters
Office for the Management of Penitentiary Real Estate
Mr Ettore Barletta Ms Antonella Cambio

The Cesare Battisti Barracks

The urban context

Some data on the available space

- Existing barracks occupied an area of 120,000 m²
- About 30,000 m² still occupied by the carabinieri
- The available area of approximately 90.000 m² will be divided into:
 - 20.000 m² for housing and lodging of inmates
 - 10.000 m² for administrative offices and penitentiary services
 - 10.000 m² for parking areas
 - 50.000 m² for training and green work activities

The Main Objectives

- ❑ Redevelop the area
- ❑ Respect and enhance green areas
- ❑ Redefine female detention model for an effective social rehabilitation
- ❑ Be self-sustaining in energy requirements

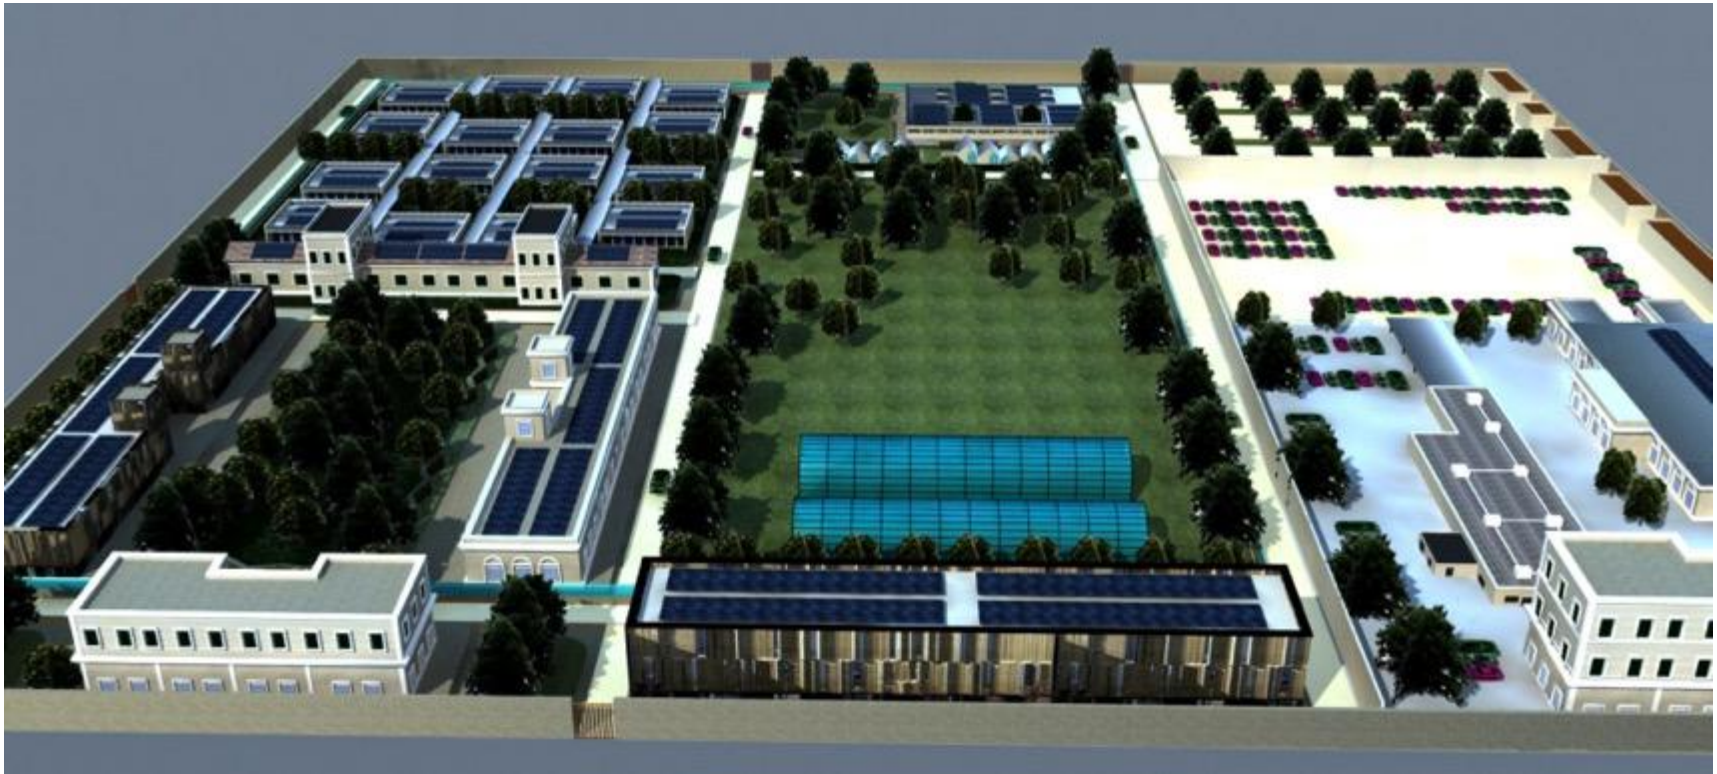

Use of Existing Structures

- The project will use the existing buildings for the offices of the prison management and for some indoor activities

Personnel Facilities

- The block for penitentiary personnel will be built on the floor print of a demolished building and will use, in a contrapuntal key, the morphological canons of the existing contiguous buildings and of the pre-existing building

The detention areas

- The detention areas consist of twelve single-storey units surrounded by green and four units for imprisoned mothers with children

The detention room

- ▣ The detention room allows for a physical relationship between the inmate and the outside

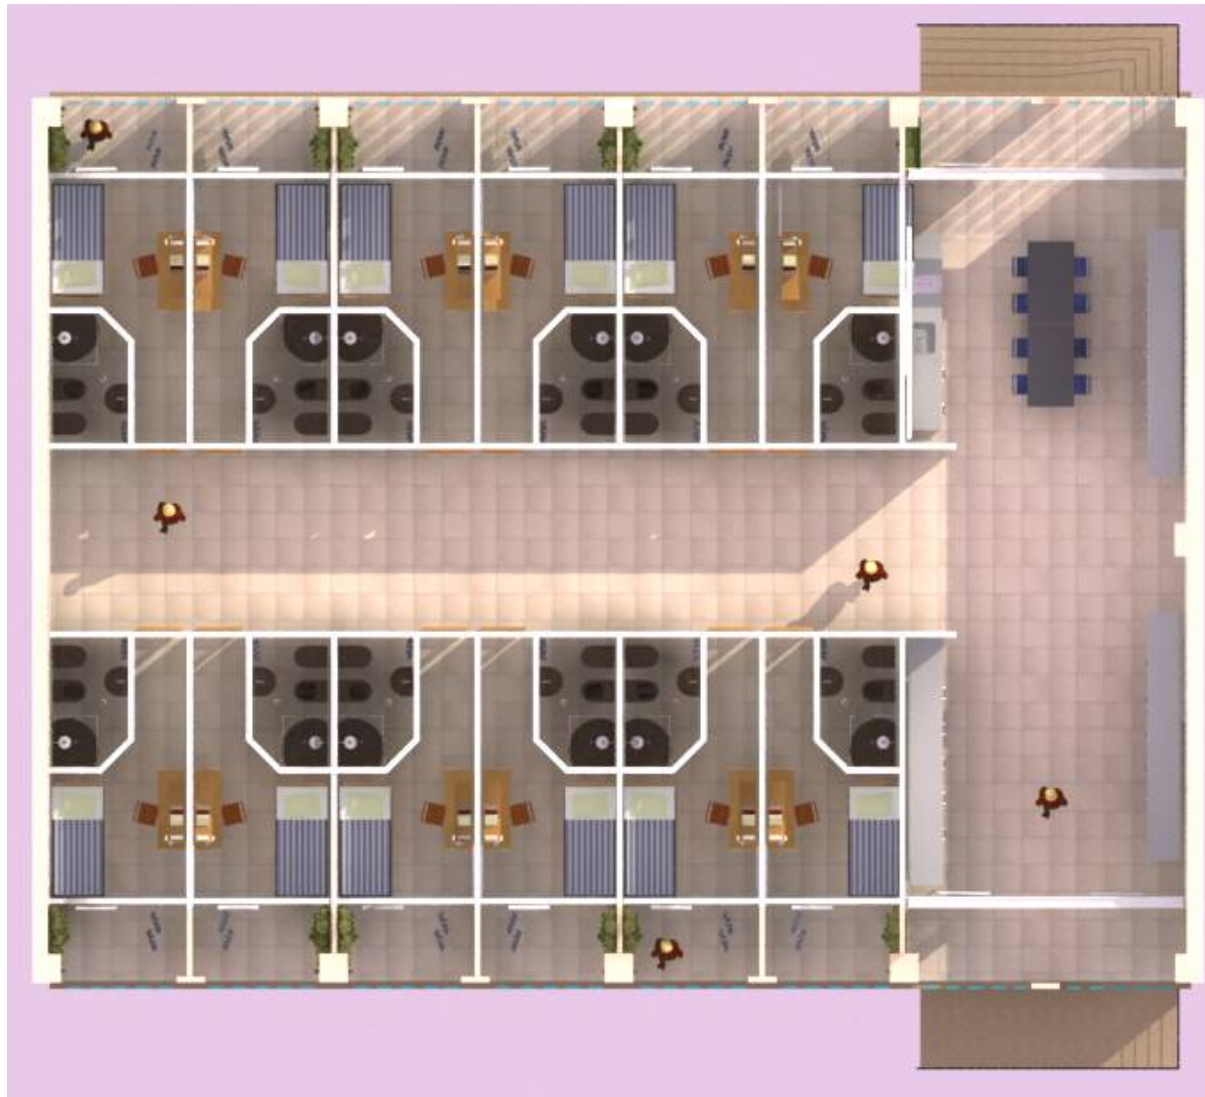

The living area

- The living area, with the choice of finishing, colour and furnishing, seeks to encourage the need for privacy and reflection

The unit

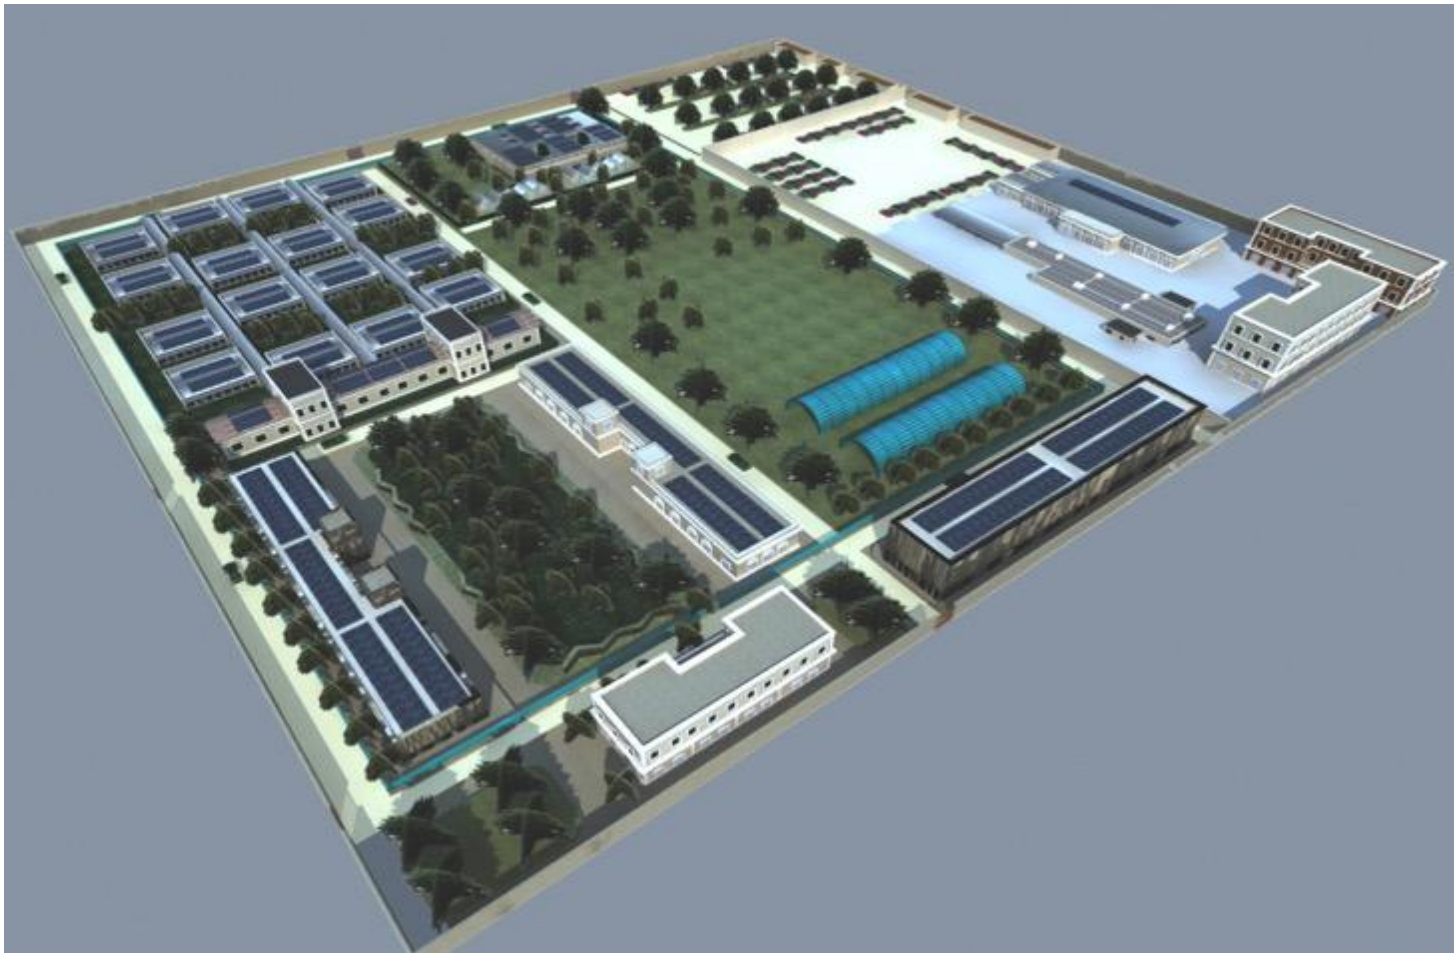

Meeting area for visits

The green

- The green area, consistent with the idea of a prison that is humane, means above all job opportunities

I.C.A.M. Basic Security Establishment for mothers with children

- Special facilities for 24 places in the prison area will be provided, with room design studied to allow for the lodging of children with their mother inprisoned

The wall

- Along with the removal of bars the prison wall will be replaced with a transparent one

Thank You!

Ettore Barletta,
Architect,
Director, Office for the Management of Penitentiary
Real Estate
ettore.barletta@giustizia.it

Antonella Cambio,
Snr Civil Engineer,
Office for the Management of
Penitentiary Real Estate
antonella.cambio@giustizia.it

Pasquale Ametrano,
Architect,
Office for the Management of
Penitentiary Real Estate
pasquale.ametrano@giustizia.it