European Seminar

„More volunteers for less violence“

The role of citizens engaged in the world of prisons - the expectations of prisoners, Justice systems and citizens

In Strasbourg / France
11th to 14th May 2017

Seminar in collaboration with

ANVP, France

AFVPB, Belgium

Bonjo, the Netherlands

With the support of

Franco-German Institute and Robert Bosch Foundation

FORUM EUROPÉEN
de politique criminelle
appliquée

We are currently witnessing very diverse evolutions within the world of prisons across Europe. Several countries, such as Germany, the Netherlands or the United Kingdom are closing prisons and experimenting with new approaches. In France, the prison population is increasing, new prisons are being built, and young people, in particular, are often angry with society. Is imprisonment always the appropriate solution? Are sanctions in the community more efficient? In the midst of these evolutions and questions, the citizens are volunteering in prisons to represent the civil society there. What is the impact of these developments and questions on the role of volunteers in and out of prisons?

In the context of „Let's Go“, a competition of ideas - subsidized by the Franco-German Institute and the Robert Bosch Foundation - an inquiry was launched among citizens volunteering in prisons in different countries, so as to take stock of their experience.

The objective of this seminar is to provide a space for creative exchanges between participants from different European countries. Through discussions about our practices, we hope to learn more from each other in the European context.

We look forward to welcoming you in Strasbourg,
